

HUSCH BLACKWELL

Litigation & Alternative Dispute Resolution

Backing clients every step of the way

Husch Blackwell's litigators are active coast to coast, asserting and defending client interests in virtually all types of litigation. We feature over 300 litigators and are capable of taking on the most complex of matters, ranging from bet-the-company cases to large portfolios of litigation spread across multiple jurisdictions. Clients around the world trust us to understand their businesses, their objectives, and their unique ways of working and to develop solutions that are practical, efficient and comprehensive in scope.

We're committed to resolving disputes for clients as efficiently and cost-effectively as possible. Our trial and appellate attorneys are known for skillfully exploring creative options to achieve favorable results inside and outside the courtroom. Alternative dispute resolution is a particular strength, but when trial is the best or only option, our attorneys are fierce advocates. We also embrace innovative technologies such as machine learning and customized client litigation portals that increase efficiency, reduce legal spend and result in superior outcomes.
