

HUSCH BLACKWELL

Transportation

Transportation and logistics are the lifeblood of today's global economy. Husch Blackwell advises transportation companies—and those who depend on them—on a broad range of transportation issues, including e-commerce platforms, the movement and handling of hazardous materials, customs and trade, cargo liability, contracts, logistics services, railcar leasing, warehousing and packaging services. We help our clients with sophisticated transactions and strategic litigation to help capitalize on new opportunities and drive their businesses forward.

